Got Homework? Get Help! @ Your Public Library

Beginning March 1, the Public Library of Cincinnati and Hamilton County will provide free homework help to students in Kindergarten through eighth grades at the Bond Hill, Price Hill, College Hill, and Avondale branch libraries.

Staff from the Library's newly organized Literacy and Homework Support department will be on-hand at these locations to help students with homework assignments and to provide skills building assistance on any subject. In addition to offering new sessions at these four locations, the Library provides homework help and tutoring seven days a week at the Main Library in Homework Central.

LITERACY & HOMEWORK SUPPORT AT YOUR LIBRARY

The Literacy and Homework Support department oversees the Library's efforts to foster literacy in the community as well as the homework assistance offered in the branches and in Homework Central at the Main Library.

Located on the first floor of the Main Library, Homework Central offers Hamilton County primary and secondary students the opportunity to receive homework assistance—in person, by phone, email, and the Internet—in a safe, nurturing environment conducive to study and learning. Library staff and volunteers provide homework assistance for individual daily assignments and research projects, tutoring for grades K-6 in math and reading, and help using technology for school assignments.

▲In addition to their work in Homework Central at the Main Library, staff members from the Literacy and Homework Support department will also be in four Library branches each week to help students with homework assignments and to provide skills building assistance on any subject! Keith Armour, left, a former teacher with more than 20-years of experience, will be at the Avondale Branch Library on Saturday mornings. Matt Hartig is a graduate of Xavier University who spent two years tutoring students in elementary and high schools. He will lead homework help sessions after school at the Bond Hill, Price Hill, and College Hill branch libraries.
