Ohio Rep. Mallory Visits College Hill Branch Library to Learn about Early Literacy Initiatives

◀Ohio Representative Dale Mallory visited the College Hill Branch Library on September 3 to learn more about the Library's early literacy initiatives. He is pictured here with, from the left, Gavin Smith, Zaneta Horton, Evan Myers, Garrison Smith, and Mya Gilliam.

A major focus of the Public Library is to help prepare children for kindergarten so that they are ready to read and succeed in school. In support of that effort, an average of more than 350 free story times are offered every month for babies, toddlers, and preschoolers at the Main Library and 40 branch libraries in Hamilton County.
